The Patriotic Concert.

The patriotic concert to be given at the Academy of Music tomorrow evening promises to be one of the most novel and stirring entertainments ever given in Washington. The program will include fourteen popular war songs, rendered by twenty-four picked male voices, illustrated by upwards of seventy-five stereopticon views, selected from the famous Brady and Gardner collection of war scenes, which includes over six thousand negatives taken during and immediately after the war. The singers are Messrs. W. D. McFarland, H. C. Pearson, F. H. Barbarin, A. H. Elliott, Fred Green, H. O. Singers have been given a full some people in town are inclined to the belief that Trott has C. Pearson, F. H. Barbarin, A. H. Elliott, Fred Grant, H. O. Simons, Frank Reeside, W. R. Lapham, W. E. Williams, J. M. Buchanan, E. E. Howes, W. W. Williams, J. G. Traylor, B. F. Keller, Ralph Barnard, John Spencer, James Watson, Douglas C. Miller, W. G. Penny, Messrs. Whipple (three brothers), Messrs. Atkinson and Lillibridge. Mr. E. J. Whipple, director; Mr. S. H. Jecko, accompanist.

The songs are the "Star Spangled Banner;" "Swance River;" "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground;" "The Red, White and Blue;" "Tenting Tonight;" "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp;" "Babylon is Fallen;" "All Quiet Along the Potomac Tonight;" "Artillerist's Oath;" "Marching Through Georgia;" "Vacant Chair;" "American Union:" "Soldier's Farewell," and "America." Gen. Hawley will also make a short opening address, and Gen. S. S. Eurdette will introduce part second. Among the tereopticon views some part second. Among the tereopticon views some of the most striking and interesting will be: Gen. Sheridan, taken immediately after his famous ride "to Winchester, twenty miles away;" Farragut's Flag Ship, "The Hartford," with Admiral Farragut lashed to the rigging; Miss Clara Barton, followed by stirring scenes illustrating the noble work of the famous "Sanitary Commission: 'the old "Long Bridge" in war times; the gallant Gen. Custer; Gen. Meade and his staff; Gens. Logan and Garfield; Gen. Sherman on his famous war horse, taken in the intrenchments near Atlanta; the "Monitor" just after its fight with the "Merrimac;" Gen. Grant and staff, taken in the field; Libbey Prison, now in Chicago; the box in old Ford's Theater in which Lincoln was shot, and Trumbuil's famous painting of the "Death of Warren at the Eattle of Bunker Hill." Many of these pictures are delicately tinted and produce most realistic and beautiful effects. The whole concert is in charge of the following committee: Mrs. Harrison Dingman, Mrs. Charles E. Mitchell, Mrs. I. M. Bittinger, Mrs. A. F. Childs and Miss Janet Richards

While the weather during the past week has been all that could be desired by the angler for black bass the rains on the upper Potomac have rendered the river muddy almost the entire spring, which condition is not considered desirable for a large and successful catch. IT HAS REACHED A CLIMAX. The Trouble in the National Ball Club and

MANAGER TROTT DEPOSED AND MANAGER SNYDER INSTALLED-WHAT CAUSED THE CHANGE-TROTT UNWILLING TO ABDICATE-SKETCH OF THE NEW MANAGER-RECORD OF THE CLUBS. There is trouble in the National base ball camp. The manager has been deposed and a new one appointed, but the old one refuses to succumb. The culmination of the long-pendthe directors of the club came Saturday after

ing disagreement between Manager Trott and Army, from the members of the Old Mess, Ft. informing him that his services would be Niobrara, 1890, and is presented by Capt. no longer required. The players were afterward addressed in the dressing room by Pres-Ames, R. Q. M.; Lieut. W. P. Richardson, adju-tant; Lieut. F. D. Krug of the eighth infantry and N. Snyder, who has just resigned his position as umpire in the American Association for this purpose, had been appointed manager and that thenceforth they would be expected to follow his directions. Trott takes the ground that under the terms of his contract with the National Club the re-lease given him was unfair and illegal, and he declares his intention to fight his deposition in court. He avers that he has fulfilled his part court. He avers that he has fulfilled his part of the agreement against great difficulties, and that he is in nowise responsible for the defeat of the team so far, as he has had no voice in the matter of signing or releasing players. He claimed the privilege of taking upon his shoul-ders the responsibility for defeat if he could have the power to pick his men, but this was denied him and he now asserts there is nothing that can be avered against his management. that can be averred against his management. THE DIRECTORS' SIDE of the case is brief and pointed, being merely not been given a fair show. Snyder has arrived from Boston, where he has lately been umpiring the association games—and has been given charge of the team. His introduction to the men—most of whom know him well—in this capacity took place this morning in Director Scanlon's office. Ex-Manager Trott, however, had issued a notice to players to meet him at the Baltimore and Ohio station at 11 o'clock for the purpose of going to Baltimore for the series there, but he was disappointed. The men had come to the con-clusion that one manager backed by the au-thority of the directors is better than a deposed manager with no authority but that of his own convictions. It was a case of "the king is dead; long live the king." MANAGER SNYDER is very well known in Washington, where he has resided for many years past. He is one of the most popular men in the base ball business, having played as a professional for twenty-two years. He was born here in 1855 and comyears. He was born here in 1855 and com-menced to play ball as catcher in 1869 on the old Creighton Club. In 1871 he played with Nick Young's league club and the following year he went to Baltimore, where he played with a co-operative nine, which had among its members Bielaski, Warren White and John Hol-lingshead. In 1873 he played on the Philadel. lingshead. In 1873 he played on the Philadel-phia league club from there he went to Louisville, where he played two seasons; then he went to the Boston league, where he remained three years, and, notwithstanding the people insisted on his remaining there, he was induced to come to Washington and become a member of the old Nationals, which was a memmember of the old Nationals, which was a member of the National Association. It had among its members Derby and Lynch as pitchers, Snyder and Trott, catchers, and Powell, Gerhardt, Morrisey, McClelland, Mansell and Phil. Baker.

When the National Association went out of existence the National club disbanded and Snyder the next year went back to Boston, where he caught Jim Whitney. In 1882 he went to Cincinnati, where he captained and managed the team for seven years with greatcredit and ability. The next year found him on the Cleveland club, and when the break in the league came he cast his fortunes with his old associates, and became a member of the Cleve-less sufferers who have tried and found wanting both land brotherhood team, closing the season as

ON ANALOSTAN ISLAND. There will be a battle of the giants tomorrow afternoon on Analostan Island. The strong base ball club of the Columbia Athletic Club base ball club of the Columbia Athletic Club will cross bats with the heavy hitters of Georgetown College. This game will no doubt be the best contested game between amateurs that will take place in the city during the season. A new steam launch has been provided by the Columbias to convey the people from the boat house to the island. A great many ladies have signified their intention of being present.

HEAVY BATTING IN SATURDAY'S GAME. Heavy batting characterized the game or Saturday between the Nationals and the Athletics. Both nines batted hard, but the home nine's errors in the last two innings lost the game. Out of twelve runs by the Athletics only one was earned, while five of the eleven scored by one was earned, while five of the eleven scored by the home team were earned. It was a spirited contest. At no time until Bakeley's fatal wild pitch, when the winning run was scored, in the tenth inning was the result anything but uncertain. The home team did not always display the greatest amount of headwork on the bases and threw away chances with nonchalance. The Nationals made 16 hits and 5 errors and the Athletics 13 hits and 4 errors. Visner and Dowd rapped out three-baggers and Beacher Dowd rapped out three-baggers and Beeches sent the ball skimming into the northeast cor ner for a home run.
